WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

On behalf of the International Society of Dermatology (ISD), we are pleased to announce that the XIV International Congress of Dermatology (ICD) will be held from June 18 to 21, 2025, at the Rome Congress Centre La Nuvola, under the auspices of the Italian Societies of Dermatology ADMG, ADI, ADOI, and SIDeMaST.

The ICD Congress was last held in Italy (Naples) in 1964, and we are delighted and enthusiastic that it is returning to Italy after 51 years.

Rome, the Eternal City, is a metropolis that blends eternal beauty, history, and spirituality. This city, as well as its host nation, Italy, is home to various world-renowned centres of excellence and training in dermatology. All roads lead to Rome!

The International Congress of Dermatology is held every 4 years, and with its theme The Roads of Dermatology, ICD 2025 will examine the future of dermatology by bringing together physicians, researchers, and industry to promote and improve skin health for all. Together with ISD, whose mission is to improve care through sharing knowledge, increasing professionalism, and bringing together the diverse, global dermatology community, the ICD will be a congress without borders and will celebrate diversity, which will be represented by 6 roads that cross geographical boundaries and bring the world to the city where history and modernity meet.

Working diligently on two fronts we have a common mission: inclusion in skin care through a global dermatology community that celebrates diversity.

We are delighted to welcome you to this fascinating and enlightening conference, where specialists from across the world will gather to exchange knowledge, share insights, and create collaborative discussions. Your participation adds significant value to our event, and we are convinced that your efforts will improve the overall experience for all attendees.

We look forward to welcoming you in Rome in 2025!

HOSTS

International Society of Dermatology (ISD)

The International Society of Dermatology (ISD) was founded by Drs. Aldo Castellani and Frederick Reiss in 1959. The organization was initially the "International Society of Tropical Dermatology". The Society had a particular interest in global dermatology and tropical skin diseases but also had a broad interest in all aspects of dermatology as basic sciences, venereology and public health and in teaching dermatology in developing countries. The organizing committee of Drs. George C. Andrews, Anthony C. Cipollaro and J. Lowry Miller recruited an initial worldwide membership of 1,000. Membership was open to all physicians with an interest in tropical medicine.

The first formal meeting was held on January 25 1960 at the New York Academy of Medicine. Dr. Aldo Castellani was chosen as the first President and Dr. Frederick Reiss the first Secretary General. The first paper was presented by Dr. Castellani.

The motto of the International Society of Dermatology is "Congregat ut Vincat Invidi Morbi Sagittas" - "Gather Together in Order to Overcome the Arrows of Hateful Disease".

Association of Dermatology of Magna Grecia (ADMG)

Association of Dermatology of Magna Grecia (ADMG) is a non-profit association whose members are leaders in relevant positions in universities, governmental bodies and technical agencies, public and private health institutions, professional associations, national and regional technical commissions.

The name of "Magna Grecia" does not respond to a geographical concept, as the association is located in Italy, but reflects the inspiration to the medical-philosophical doctrines of Hippocrates and Magna Graecia, glory of our ancient civilization.

As a well established scientific association with a long history of successful and annual conferences, the purpose of the Association is to promote the study and development of Dermatology and Sexually Transmitted Diseases.

HOST SUPPORTING ORGANIZATIONS

THE ROADS OF DERMATOLOGY

ICD2025 & ISD

ICD2025, with its theme The Roads of Dermatology, will examine the future of Dermatology by bringing together physicians, researchers, and industry to promote and improve skin health for all.

Together with the International Society of Dermatology (ISD), whose mission is to improve care through sharing knowledge, increasing professionalism, and bringing together the diverse, global dermatology community, the ICD will be a congress without borders and will celebrate diversity, which will be represented by 6 roads that cross geographical boundaries and bring the world to the city where history and modernity meet.

ICD'S HISTORY

The International Congress of Dermatology is held every 4-5 years with the purpose of bringing together professionals in dermatology to engage them in the exchange of scientific and clinical knowledge.

The first ICD was held in Italy in 1964 and is returning to its first host country after 51 years.

ROME

Italy is the most important crossroads in Europe. It links southern Europe to the rest of the continent and the whole world. Its location is very accessible globally and makes the country a perfect meeting point for land, sea and air routes.

Rome is the capital of Italy, a large cosmopolitan city with an artistic, architectural and cultural history that has been influencing the whole world for almost 3000 years. It is dominated by ancient structures with an infinity of places to visit, covering over two millennia of history. It is known all over the world as the Eternal City, a synonym for everlasting beauty, history and spirituality.

"All roads lead to Rome"

Located in the Centre of the Country and in the centre of the Mediterranean sea, Rome is an easy reach from travellers from all over the world. The city is one of the preferred sites for millions of tourists and it hosts successfully various international congresses. In addition to hotels and conference facilities, there are up-to-date exhibitions, art galleries, theatres, and cultural events which add a charming and relaxing flavour to participants' stay in the city. Modern Rome is also a major international business destination. It is the seat of the Italian government and the economy is dominated by services, telecommunication companies, research, tourism, construction and banking.

ROME CONVENTION CENTER

“LA NUVOLA”

“La Nuvola” is an international conference facility and a contemporary iconic building in Rome inaugurated on October 29, 2016. Awarded as Best Building Site from the Royal Institute of British Architects, the masterpiece of the architect Massimiliano Fuksas is a work of extraordinary artistic value, characterized by innovative solutions, an eco-friendly approach and technologically advanced materials, making it the ideal scenario for this congress.

The central showpiece of Rome’s new convention center, “La Nuvola” (The Cloud) is a bold cloud-shaped structure that ‘floats’ containing an auditorium for 1800 people. Accessed via a series of walkways, the structure is geometrically complex and visually stunning, symbolising the connection between the city of Rome and the convention center.
